Productions

The indie film business continues to be tough. Recently Mark Gill's 4 year old Film Department (Law Abiding Citizen) folded it's tent due to lack of financing. We talk to producers daily and the number one issue for them is finding the money (and making sure its there as promised when needed). TV Pilots are in to the networks for review and beginning next week we will learn who the lucky (and not so lucky) producers will be for the coming TV season.
