USA PRODUCTION NEWS
North American Film & TV News

Editorial

Due to a shortened workweek (USA Labor Day Holiday) our research staff returned a few less Projects than has been the norm over the summer. We expect that the number of Projects will pick up as the Fall films and TV shows are announced. We are also seeing an uptick in the number of pilots that have been released for production in the coming quarter. We will continue to strive to get the most current information out to you as promptly as possible.

The Staff at USA Production News appreciates your continued support. If you find an error in our data, please let us know so we can amend future reports and continue to bring you the most up to date, actionable information.

Best wishes,

Linda
